

MASTER PROGRAM
IN HUMAN RIGHTS LAW

BELGRADE, ACADEMIC YEAR 2019/2020

ABOUT US

Established in 2001, Law Faculty Union University in Belgrade (the “Law School”) is known for its modern approach to of studying the legal disciplines that include a composite of theoretical lecturing and practical training. The Law School is different from other law schools in teaching and studying, in addition to standard legal disciplines, modern disciplines such as EU law, media law, medical law, legal ethics, environmental law, IT law, anti-discrimination law, sports law etc.

The program of studies is designed and harmonized with the relevant programs of the European universities.

The classes are held either by eminent professors and/or prominent legal experts including Prof. Dragoljub Popović, Ph.D., Prof. Bogoljub Milosavljević, Ph.D., Prof. Nebojša Šarkić, Ph.D, Jovan Ćirić Ph.D.

The distinctive contribution in teaching is given by a group of young people and faculty members who have studied at prestigious universities abroad such as London School of Economics, Sorbonne, Central European University, Columbia University, University of Connecticut, University of Leicester, etc.

This is the only school in the Republic of Serbia in which full time professors, often engaged as visiting professors, have been awarded honorary doctorates by world renowned universities for their contribution to the development of jurisprudence, such as Prof Vladimir Vodinelić, Ph.D., who was awarded a honorary doctorate in Germany.

Professors of the Law School represent the Republic of Serbia in different commissions of the UN, Council of Europe and in European professional organizations.

The Law School is registered under Decision No. 612-00-298/2001-04 dated 01. 11. 2001 with the Ministry of Education and Sport of the Republic of Serbia.

Commission for Accreditation and Quality Assurance of the Republic of Serbia issued on 20.03.2015 Certificate on accreditation of the academic studies, master program in Human Rights Law, No. 612-00-02500/2013-04.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

The Law School does not discriminate against students, faculty members and/or employees on any basis including race, national origin, religion, creed, sex, ancestry, sexual orientation, political affiliation, property status, culture, language, age, mental or physical disability.

CLASS ATTENDANCE AND SEMESTER CERTIFICATION

Class attendance is mandatory.

Class attendance is a requirement for certification of a semester. Both Winter and Summer Semesters need to be certified.

If no classes are held because of insufficient number of candidates, mentoring is organized for the purposes of better comprehension of the study material, minimum 5 times in one semester.

Exemption from class attendance: Students who reside outside of Belgrade, or those who are sent to work outside of Belgrade, and for other justified reasons, may, on a substantiated request, be exempt from the requirement to attend lectures and seminars, but cannot be exempt from participating in mentoring/consultations once per semester.

The Dean decides on the exemption from attendance.

EXAMINATION

Examination cannot be applied for if the contractual financial obligations are not met. Students will be prohibited from taking examination until all the candidate's financial obligations owed to the Law School.

Students are required to take the examination soon after classes are completed in the first examination period. Student who does not take the examination will be deemed as having it taken but not passing it.

In other examination periods, the student will voluntarily decide whether or not to take the examination.

The student is required to re-attend the classes and meet all pre examination requirements if the former fails to pass the examination until the end of the academic year, i.e. ending with October Examination Period.

Examination is awarded grades from 5 to 10.

TEACHING MATERIALS

Textbooks, notes and other teaching materials can be found in the Law School's bookstore or the library.

MASTER THESIS

Master thesis is a scientific or scholarly work in which the candidate demonstrates that he/she has mastered the methodology and the art of independent written presentation of a specific legal issue, its processing, and the ability to reach conclusion in conformity with dogmatic, historical, comparative and social methods appropriate for the analyses of the legal issues or a term. Scientific and scholarly forms (references to literature, sources of law, court judgments, sentences, legal opinions, general positions, etc.) appropriate for the scientific and scholarly works in the field of law are used.

Master thesis needs to be applied for in the Second Semester. An application is submitted to the Postgraduate Studies Committee. The submitted topic has to be from the field of the study program of the student; if the topic is outside that field, the application will be decided on by the Postgraduate Studies Committee at a proposal of a faculty member.

Timeline: The Postgraduate Studies Committee approves the topic of the thesis and appoints a scholarly mentor. The master studies must be completed in accordance with Article 109 of the Law on Higher Education. If the master studies are not completed within the deadline prescribed by the Law, the student may request an extension of the deadline by submitting an application and a report to the Postgraduate Studies Committee which may extend the deadline for completing the studies and defending the master's thesis for a period of six months.

Mandatory content of the master thesis application:

- 1. Topic
- 2. Reasons for choosing the topic
- 3. Goals to be achieved
- 4. Structure of the work with a thesis for each title
- 5. Bibliography - minimum 15 sources, minimum 10 of which sources have to be scholarly publications and minimum five of which have to be in a foreign language.

IMPORTANT: The candidate is required to submit consent of the scholarly mentor related to the approved topic of the thesis.

Standards:

Number of pages: minimum 30 a maximum 60 pages.

Paper Format: A4

Margin: top and bottom 2,5 cm, left 3 cm, right 2 cm.

Font: Times New Roman

Font Size: text: font 12, footnotes: font 10

Line Spacing: 1,5

Text Alignment: Justified

Number of Copies: Master thesis is provided in 5 (five) copies in a printed form and one in electronic form.

Mandatory literature

The candidate is required to use at least 15 sources out of which at least 10 sources have to be academic publications and at least five have to be in a foreign language.

The sources include all published sources like books; articles; court judgments; internet sites; corporate reports, etc.

Citing References

All sources must be referenced in footnotes. Citing reference guidelines are given as an exhibit to this information.

PLAGIARISM

Master thesis must be an original work of the student and in its preparation it is prohibited to use someone else's scientific and other work without adequate reference to the source. Plagiarism is not solely using someone else's positions without adequate reference but also paraphrasing someone else's arguments in the manner which misleads the reader into believing that they are those of the author of the scholarly work.

Using and downloading inappropriately will be deemed plagiarism and will be sanctioned pursuant to by-laws of the Law School.

If during the evaluation or defence of the master thesis or at a later time it is found that the master thesis is not an original scholarly work of the candidate, the awarded diploma on the acquired academic title will be avoided pursuant to the Law School Statute.

Any person of the Law School or the University, faculty members or associates of the Law School, when they learn of the plagiarism of the master thesis defended at the Law School shall without any delay inform the Dean thereof.

MASTERS THESIS ORAL DEFENCE

Master thesis is defended before a three member thesis committee in which one member must be a faculty member. Members of the committee may be research assistants or scholars, prominent legal experts from the ranks of lawyers, judges, public prosecutors, etc.

Member of the committee are appointed by the Postgraduate Studies Committee in a decision accepting the topic and appointing a scholarly mentor, or in a separate decision.
